Gifts from the Sea Jr. Installation Theme

"Gifts from the Sea" was the theme of the annual installation of officers banquet of the Torrance Junior Women's Club, Marina District, CFWC, held at the clubhouse.

Mrs. John P. Schwartz, past Junior president, installing officer, associated the duties of each officer being installed with the name of a different sea shell, a gift from the sea. Officers installed were Mmes. Jack Dean, president; Gerson Jacobson, first vice president; Clayton Lilley, second vice president; Jerry Saladin, third vice president; John Stokley, recording secretary; T. J. Burchfield, corresponding secretary; B. R. McRee, treasurer; L. A. Schulwitz; Richard Dorothy, reporter; Richard Oliver, parliamentarian; Edward Aiken, philanthropy; Joseph Boylan, Junior-Senior representative; Ronald Forestal, federation; R. Sandstrom, and J. P. Bay, coordinators.

"Who Married Your Husband?" was the title of the lecture by the well known psychologist, Dr. Dixie Sturgis. Being enlightening and entertaining, she discussed what man and woman want. She placed husbands in categories. Torrance Juniors and guests were intrigued with her ideas on how each type could be appeased.

Table decorations, of decorated sea shells, succulents and candles together with sea motif programs and place cards carried out the theme.

Gifts were presented to graduating Juniors, Mmes. Don Carlson, D. E. Moore, John P. Schwartz, C. L. Briner and Richard Folk. Presented to the Senior Woman's Club Coordinators, Mmes. R. Sandstrom and R. E. Shaw, were gifts to show appreciation and gratitude for work well done. A lovely copper chafing dish was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Lee Clotworthy.

It was announced that the installation banquet that we will be sponsoring a tetanus clinic to be held at the Greenwood Elementary School, 1520 Greenwood St., Torrance, on June 1 and July

Installation Set By Cotton Pickers

Approximately 100 squares attended the coronation hall of the Cotton Pickers square dance club last Saturday night at Sportsman's Park.

Queen Arline Anderson was escorted to her throne with solemn ceremony by John Murphy, president of the club.

Chuck Raley and Wild Bill Foross called the dances and kept the lively affair going until 12 midnight. While many danced others enjoyed the delicious southern fried chicken dinner which was served continuously in the adjoining rooms.

"Thanks to the Square Links and the girls of Scout Troop 776 for their wonderful help," stated one of the Cotton Pickers. "The Square Links helped by cooking some of the chicken and the Girl Scouts served the food. Girl Scouts are known as the Harbor-Lomita Neighbors. Mrs. May Fair is their leader.

Mrs. John Murphy, first lady of Cotton Pickers was chairman of the food committee. Mrs. Bill Foross and Queen Arline Anderson made flower name tags with cotton ball centers for ladies and cotton ball boutonnières for the men guests.

John Murphy expressed his thanks to the A Square D representatives for helping to make the Cotton Pickers Ball so successful. Murphy said there were many people who worked to help the Ball be a success and that he wanted to thank them all through the PRESS.

Saturday, May 27 at 8 p.m. at the Stephen White Junior High School, there was a dance and installation of the newly elected officers.

They include: Walt Anderson, president; Arline Anderson, first lady; Zet and Iris Williams, vice president; Bob and Mrs. Maxine Pozainsky, secretary; Jeannette Webster and Frank Hall, Bill Wilcox, historian; Jack Myers, sheriff; and John and Noreen, A Square D representatives.
